

Leave the Do-Not-Call list alone. I hate telemarketers. Anyone who calls my place of residence un-invited is invading my privacy. My home is my refuge and my castle and is not to be violated by anyone for any reason. I am also against any exceptions. If you are selling anything and call my home you will not like what you are going to hear. This should also apply to E-Mail on the computer commonly known as Spam.